Educator Stresses Need For Education To Stay In Step

The need to keep the educational level in the public schools in step with the fast growing and fast moving world of today was emphasized by Arthur Goforth, principal of Clear Creek High School, in a recent address to the La Porte DeMolay.

Goforth cited as an example the fact that today's high school student is now taking courses which only a few years ago were offered in the freshman and sophomore years of college.

Goforth also declared that the educational process for an individual begins at birth, pointing out the need that this fact be recognized and educational patterns established very early in life to insure future progress.

Touching lightly on the year-round, 12-month school year, Goforth explained that very few 12-month plans have been announced and answers concerning this program must await future developments.

Goforth, a well-known area educator, is a graduate of Rice University and has been with the Clear Creek School District for a number of years. A question-answer period followed his presentation.

Each DeMolay chapter is required to observe certain obligatory days each year. Goforth was invited as speaker in connection with one of these days concerned with education.

DeMolays hold get acquainted party

SEABROOK - Ed White Memorial Youth Center in Seabrook was the site of a "Get Acquainted Party" Sunday, October 17. The party was sponsored by the La Porte Chapter Order of DeMolay and was attended by a large and enthusiastic number of guests.

The meeting was opened with a prayer by E. E. Hartlieb, District 16 Governor and representative of the Texas Executive Officer. John Welch, past master counselor, gave a short history of DeMolay, and Clifford Vashaw, the present Master Counselor, spoke about the current program and plans for the future. Hartlieb outlined the organization of DeMolay and explained the function of each from the International Headquarters in Kansas City, Mo., to the local chapter level. Hartlieb explained that a DeMolay chapter is not a masonic organization in any respect. However, each chapter must be sponsored by a Masonic lodge or any group of masons. It was also stressed that simply because a young man is a DeMolay, this does not mean that he will ever become a Mason. This is a matter of personal choice.

The purpose of the event was to inform the guests about the principles and teachings of DeMolay. A film entitled "Young Men on the Go" was presented as a graphic means of showing what will happen to a young man once he becomes a DeMolay. It depicted the social, civic, athletic and fund raising activities in which DeMolays participate.
